Introduction to Blockchain and Cryptoassets

What is blockchain and why is it a big deal? Is decentralization the future of everything? What is cryptocurrency? How can YOU get started as a builder, creator or investor in this new space? We will answer these and other fundamental questions with the help of our guest instructor, Keycha Concepción.

Introduction to Blockchain and Cryptoassets

Bitcoin: the Beginning

- Crypto pioneer and expert James Haft joins us for our monthly CryptoCurious english session, where they will share their knowledge about this fascinating digital tool that started the blockchain revolution back in 2008 when Satoshi Nakamoto published his now famous whitepaper.

Bitcoin: the Beginning

Ethereum and Smart Contracts

The invention and deployment of Ethereum completely changed the game in the "crypto scene" back in 2015 with the introduction of Smart Contracts. Thanks to these digital tools DeFi (Decentralized Finance) is possible, as well as NFTs (Non-Fungible Tokens). For this seminar we will be joined by Luis Rivera, an investor and data scientist who has been sharing his knowledge with the community since 2020.

Introduction to NFTs

Without a doubt, 2021 was the year of NFTs. Yet, very few understand what NFTs are and how to use them effectively outside of the realm of "Crypto Art". This seminar will be led by Juan Carlos Pedreira, digital marketing expert and local tech guru.

The Metaverse and the Web 3.0

The concept of an interconnected virtual world is not new, but since Mark Zuckerberg announced FaceBook's re-brand to "Meta", it seems like the entire world shifted their attention to what now is referred to as "The Metaverse". However, the idea of Web 3.0 is much more broad and complex than just virtual environments. For this seminar Pedro Cruz, also known as "Metaverse Dreams" joins us to talk about what the Metaverse is, how it relates to the Web 3.0 and how WE can participate in building it.
